

Radio Wassulu–Bible Story Broadcasts

Broadcasting Bible Stories by Radio in Rural Villages.

In their third year, the Chronological Bible Stories broadcast by Radio Wassulu have become very popular with listeners in the villages. Each story is recorded in the local language and averages about 12 minutes in length. We contract with the station to broadcast two stories each week on Wednesday evenings. The story cycle is completed every 30 weeks, and is repeated to cover each of the 52 weeks during a year.

Thanks to generous gifts from churches and individuals, the stories are broadcast and God is using them to reveal His truth and make a difference in the hearts of the Wassulu people.

Recently, one employee at the radio station shared the following news:

“During our open house here at Radio Wassulu, we invited people from all over the region to stop by for a visit and tell us what they liked. Many people came and commented on the Bible stories, telling us how much they enjoy listening to them. They told us we must continue broadcasting the stories.”

And...

“The other day, a local Imam, leader at the mosque, stopped by to tell me that he is listening to the Bible stories. He said there is much truth in them, and we must continue to broadcast the stories so people can listen.”

The cost of broadcasting Bible stories: $40 per week (That’s $20 per story).
